IEK Holds Media Launch for 33rd International Convention

Thursday, 5th November, 2026

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) held a media launch on 5th November 2026 for its 33rd International Convention, bringing together IEK leadership, partners and media representatives to highlight the significance of the upcoming event. IEK was honoured to be graced by the Chief Guest Eng. Joseph Mbugua, CBS, (PS, State Department for Roads) and the Special Guest Eng John Kipchumba Tanui, CBS, (PS State Department for ICT and the Digital Economy).

The Convention, themed "Intelligent Systems for Accelerated and Sustainable Growth," comes at a time when Kenya is seeking to accelerate infrastructure development, embrace emerging technologies and address complex challenges across key sectors of the economy.

The media launch provided an opportunity to raise awareness of the Convention and its role in bringing engineering perspectives into discussions on Kenya's development priorities. The event will bring together engineers, policymakers, industry leaders, researchers and other stakeholders to explore how intelligent systems and engineering innovation can support sustainable development and national growth.

Through the Convention, IEK seeks to promote dialogue, knowledge exchange and collaboration on engineering solutions that can contribute to Kenya's future.

IEK and Safaricom Explore Collaboration in Engineering and Telecommunications

Monday, 2nd November, 2026

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK), led by President Eng. Harrison Keter, paid a courtesy visit to Safaricom PLC for a consultative meeting with the company's Head of Operations, Mr. James Langat, to explore opportunities for collaboration in engineering, professional development and telecommunications.

The IEK delegation comprised 2nd Vice President Eng. Otieno Ogallo, Honorary Secretary Eng. Grace Kagondu, Council Member Eng. Desmond Barongo and IEK Technical Papers Committee (TPC) representative Eng. Paul Ochola. Safaricom was also represented by Eng. Thomas Koros, Energy Planning and Network Support.

Discussions focused on opportunities for joint Continuing Professional Development (CPD) initiatives, internship and mentorship programmes for young and graduate engineers, and capacity-building programmes for engineers working in technology and telecommunications. The engagement provided a platform for exploring ways to strengthen technical skills and professional development within the rapidly evolving ICT sector.

As part of the outcomes, Safaricom committed to sponsoring its engineers to participate in the upcoming 33rd IEK International Convention and providing internet connectivity throughout the event. This support will facilitate participation and engagement during the Convention.

Through collaboration with technology and telecommunications organisations, IEK continues to promote knowledge exchange, mentorship and the contribution of engineers to Kenya's digital future.

IEK and KoTDA Explore Potential Areas of Collaboration

Wednesday, 4th November, 2026

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) leadership, led by President Eng. Harrison Keter, paid a courtesy visit to the Konza Technopolis Development Authority (KoTDA) to explore opportunities for collaboration in engineering, mentorship and capacity building.

The IEK delegation included Honorary Secretary Eng. Grace Kagondu and Capital Branch Chair Eng. Radiance Mungu. They were received by KoTDA CEO Mr. John Paul Okwiri, alongside Eng. Antony Sang and Eng. Lewis Ogundo. The visit also included a tour of KoTDA facilities.

The proposed areas of collaboration aim to strengthen engineering expertise in smart city development and intelligent infrastructure.

Key outcomes from the discussion included Konza Technopolis Development Authority committing to send their engineers to participate in the convention. Additionally, they committed to ensuring that their engineers register with IEK.

The engagement reflects IEK's continued efforts to build partnerships that support professional development and equip the next generation of engineers to contribute to Kenya's smart cities and infrastructure agenda.

IEK and Vilcom Explore Opportunities to Strengthen Partnership for Engineering Advancement

Friday, 6th November, 2026

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) held discussions with Vilcom during a courtesy visit aimed at strengthening the partnership between the two organisations and exploring areas of collaboration to advance the engineering profession.

The IEK delegation was led by President Eng. Harrison Keter and included Council Member Eng. Desmond Barongo and North Eastern Branch Chair Eng. Abass Mohamed. They were received by Vilcom CEO, Eng. Agnes Limo.

Discussions centred on Vilcom Networks particiaption in the upcoming 33rd IEK International Convention. A key outcome of the engagement was Vilcom's commitment to support the upcoming 33rd IEK International Convention through sponsorship and in-kind contributions.

Beyond the Convention, the discussions explored several areas through which IEK and Vilcom can deepen their collaboration. These included mentorship opportunities for young and graduate engineers, support for the professional registration of engineers, and initiatives to strengthen local engineering capacity. The two organisations also considered opportunities for reciprocal participation in their respective events and ways to enhance engagement with sponsors and industry partners.

The engagement reinforces the importance of partnerships between IEK and the private sector in supporting the growth of the engineering profession.

IEK Engages University Engineering Students on Mentorship and Professional Development

Thursday, 5th November, 2026

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) held an engagement with chairs of Engineering Students Associations (ESAs) from universities across the country to discuss opportunities for mentorship, professional development and greater student participation in the engineering sector.

The meeting was led by IEK President Eng. Harrison Keter and attended by 2nd Vice President Eng. Otieno Ogallo, Council Member Eng. Yvone Robert, North Eastern Branch Chair Eng. Abass Hussein and Clifford Nyambedha.

Discussions focused on strengthening links between IEK and university engineering students, particularly through mentorship and internship opportunities for student and graduate engineers. These initiatives are important in helping young people gain practical exposure, connect with experienced professionals and better understand the demands of the engineering profession.

The meeting also explored the participation of ESAs in the upcoming 33rd IEK International Convention, providing an opportunity for students to engage with engineers, industry leaders and other stakeholders on issues shaping the profession.

The engagement forms part of IEK's continued efforts to connect with emerging engineering talent and strengthen the pathway from university training to professional practice.

IEK Participates in ESA-KU Annual Sustainability Gala Dinner

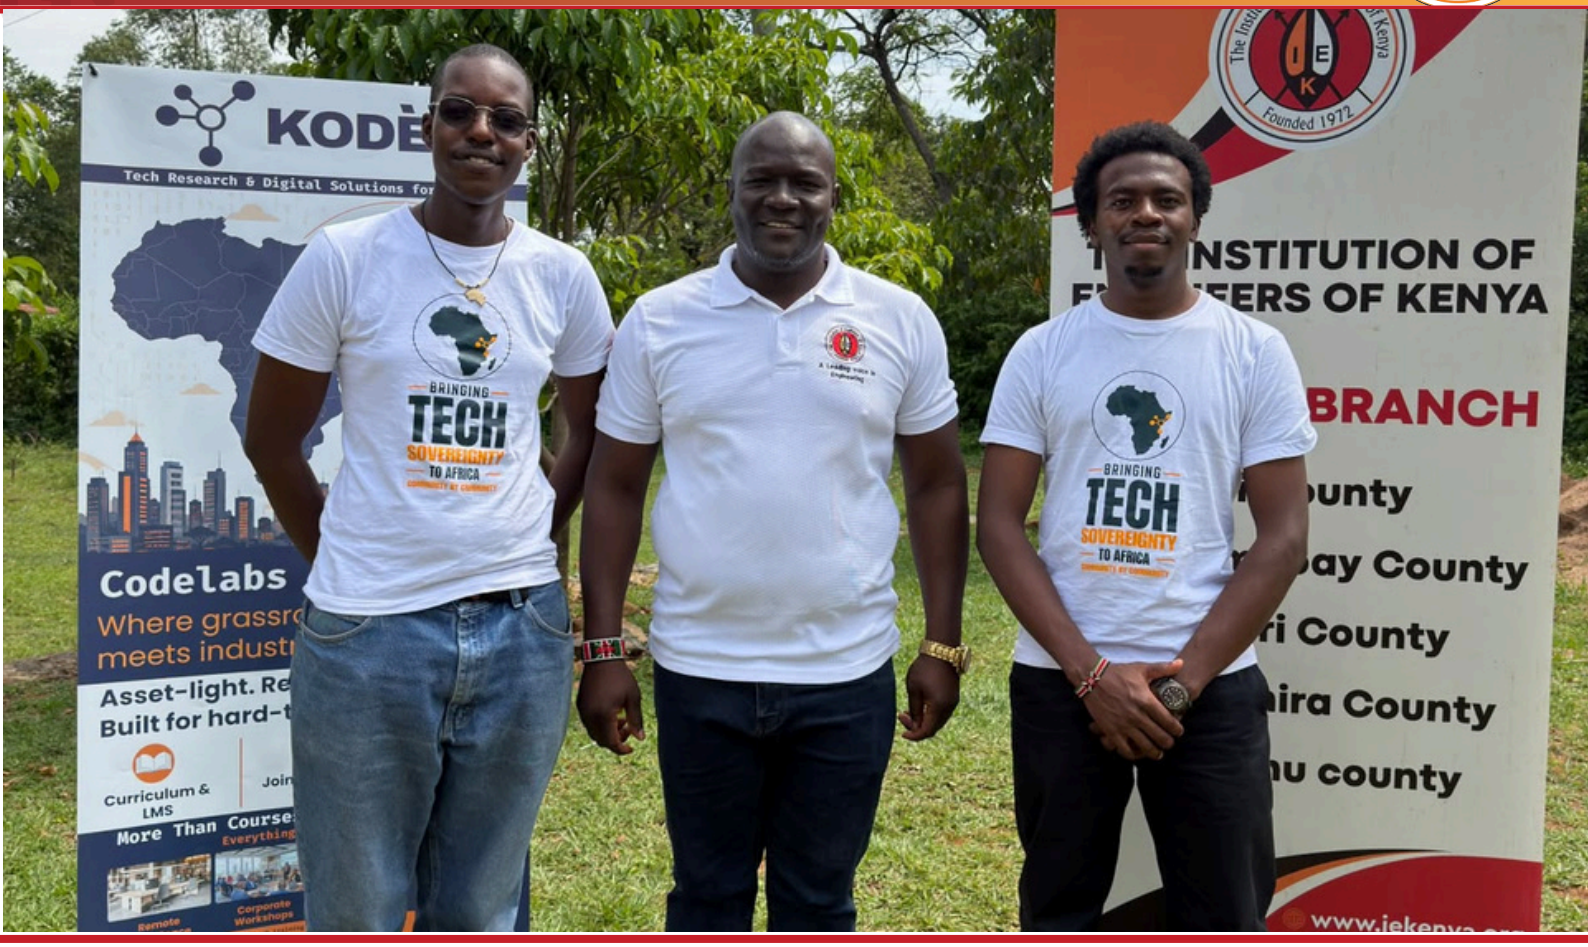

Friday, 6th November, 2026

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) participated in the Engineering Students Association – Kenyatta University (ESA-KU) Annual Gala Dinner held on 6th November 2026 at Golden Tulip Hotel, Nairobi. The event brought together engineering professionals, industry leaders, academics and university students to celebrate the engineering profession and strengthen connections between academia and industry.

IEK was represented by its President, Eng. Harrison Keter, alongside Future Leaders Committee representatives Clifford Nyambedha and Caren Odero. Other distinguished guests included the Chief Guest, Dr. Eng. John M. Mativo; Eng. Esther Emmy Amimo, Principal Engineer at the Ministry of Roads; and Eng. Francis Munyao (MCA Tricky), among other industry professionals and guests.

The Sustainability Dinner followed ESA-KU's inaugural Sustainability Conference, held under the theme "Engineering a Sustainable Future." It provided an opportunity to extend the conversations from the conference through networking, mentorship and engagement between established professionals and emerging engineers.

IEK's participation reflects the Institution's continued commitment to engaging student engineering associations and supporting initiatives that nurture the next generation of engineers. Strengthening these connections is essential to developing a well-prepared engineering workforce capable of contributing to Kenya's sustainable development.

IEK Participates in Digital Skills Mentorship Programme

Saturday, 7th November, 2026

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) participated in a digital skills mentorship initiative organised by the Nyanza Branch on 7th November 2026, in coordination with the KODES Digital Skills Mentorship Programme. The activity formed part of the Branch's Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) efforts to engage young people and promote digital skills development.

IEK 2nd Vice President Eng. Otieno Ogallo participated in the initiative, while IEK President Eng. Harrison Keter addressed the young participants. In his remarks, he encouraged them to embrace technology and innovation and to take advantage of the opportunities emerging from the rapidly evolving digital landscape.

The engagement highlighted the growing role of technology in shaping the future of work, infrastructure and service delivery. It also underscored the importance of equipping young people with relevant digital skills and encouraging them to explore how technology can be applied to address real-world challenges.

The initiative aligns with the theme of the 33rd IEK International Convention, "Intelligent Systems for Accelerated and Sustainable Growth," which recognises the role of intelligent technologies and innovation in driving development.

Through such outreach activities, IEK continues to promote awareness of engineering and technology while encouraging young people to develop the skills and mindset needed to participate in a technology-driven future.

IEK Participates in Annual Black Tie Thanksgiving Dinner

Friday, 30th October, 2026

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) was represented at the Annual Black Tie Thanksgiving Dinner by Eng. David Jomeli, IEK Lamu Representative and member of the Federation of African Engineering Organisations (FAEO) Anti-Corruption Committee.

The dinner brought together members, partners, friends and representatives of the Diplomatic Corps for an evening of networking, appreciation and relationship building. It also provided an opportunity for attendees to interact with the Chief Guest, H.E. Susan M. Burns, Chargé d'Affaires at the U.S. Embassy in Nairobi.

The gathering offered a platform to strengthen professional and institutional connections while fostering engagement among participants from different sectors and backgrounds. Such occasions provide valuable opportunities for exchanging perspectives, building mutual understanding and identifying shared interests that can support future engagements.

For IEK, participation in these gatherings forms part of its broader commitment to maintaining strong relationships with professional networks, development partners and other stakeholders.

Through continued engagement, the Institution seeks to create opportunities for collaboration that support the engineering profession and its contribution to national development.

IEK Contributes Engineering Expertise to Review of Building Code on Non-Sewered Sanitation

Friday, 6th November, 2026

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) represented by Honorary Secretary Eng. Grace Kagondu and Council Member Eng. James Karori participated in a Technical Working Retreat on the Building Code and Non-Sewered Sanitation, convened by the Ministry of Water, Sanitation and Irrigation with technical support from the Sanitation and Hygiene Fund (SHF).

The retreat took place from 3rd to 5th November 2026 and brought together stakeholders to examine provisions relating to sanitation infrastructure and identify areas requiring review. A key focus of the retreat was the review of the Building Code 2024, particularly the identification of gaps affecting non-sewered sanitation systems. Participants examined the need for practical amendments that would support the adoption and implementation of safe, appropriate and sustainable sanitation technologies.

The discussions highlighted the importance of ensuring that building regulations respond to different sanitation needs and infrastructure contexts. Strengthening the provisions governing non-sewered sanitation is an important consideration in expanding access to safe sanitation while supporting public health, environmental protection and sustainable infrastructure development.

IEK remains committed to working with government agencies and other stakeholders to support the development of sound regulations and resilient infrastructure systems.

IEK BENEVOLENT FUND SCHEME RENEWED FOR 2026/2027 SCHEME YEAR

Renew your cover by 30 November 2026 to avoid a waiting period

Losing a loved one is hard enough without the additional worry of how to pay for the funeral. The IEK Benevolent Fund Scheme (BFS) exists to ease that burden by helping members and their eligible dependants to meet last expense costs.

Council is pleased to announce that a BFS cover has been secured for the 2026/2027 scheme year, which starts on 1 November 2026. Octagon Insurance Brokers has been retained as the provider following a competitive tender process. The cover is underwritten by ABSA.

How to Renew or Join the Scheme

If you are already in the scheme, your 2026/2027 invoice has been sent to your email address.
Pay it by 30 November 2026 to renew without a waiting period; after that date, the waiting period will apply.
If you have not yet joined, you can register and cover your eligible family members too. (Click here)

IMPORTANT UPDATES

IEK BENEVOLENT FUND SCHEME RENEWED FOR 2026/2027 SCHEME YEAR

How the Provider, Octagon Insurance Brokers, was Selected

The current cover was provided through Octagon Insurance Brokers for the last three years. It was due to end on 31 October 2026 and to make sure members continue to get good value, Council went to the market to assess whether other providers could offer better terms.

A Request for Proposal was issued on 25 September 2026 and attracted five proposals by the 7th October 2026 deadline. Octagon had met all the requirements and offered more competitive terms than the other bidders. Council therefore accepted the Committee's recommendation to retain Octagon for 2026/2027.

We are confident that the identified BFS provider offers a good and competitive cover for our members. We therefore encourage every member to renew or join, so that this support is in place for you and your family when it is needed most.
